Boy Killed In Fire

Home Burned At Perronville

By DAVE ANDREWS

A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Heitz of Perronville was burned to death this morning when fire burst out in an upstairs room of the Stanley Novak farmhouse on highway M-669 in Perronville.

Dead is Gary Heitz, about four.

His body was recovered about 11 a. m. from an upstairs bedroom where he had been sleeping.

Another boy, Bobby, about three, was taken from the home by Mrs. Stanley Novak, who was alone in the house with the children when the fire broke out.

She was driven back in efforts to save Gary by flames which engulfed the upstairs of the home. Stanley Novak, who was at work at his store when the fire broke out, said he tried to go up the back stairs after the boy but was unable to penetrate the smoke and fire.

Firemen from the Bark River and Harris Township Volunteer fire departments battled the blaze for about two hours before bringing it under control.

Gary's body was found lying

Medicare May Extend Signup After Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration puts on a big push today to sign up all senior citizens who wish doctors' bills insurance at a cost of $3 a month.

Reports circulated that President Johnson would ask Congress to extend the deadline, which is midnight tonight.

Officials said that at last count, about 17 million persons past 65 had signed up for the program, which takes effect July 1. This is nearly 90 per cent of the some 19.1 million potential signers.

Offices Open

The midnight deadline applies to persons who reached their 65th birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1965. Persons becoming 65 after the date have a seven-month period to apply. This period comprises (1) the three months prior to their birthday month, (2) the birthday month, and (3) the following three months.

The nation's 712 Social Security offices are staying open until midnight tonight to receive applications. For those who could not get to these offices, the 34,000 main post offices have self-mailer forms which would protect a person's rights until the full application form could be filled out.

Doctor Bills

The insurance will pay 80 per cent of a person's doctor's bills over and above a $50 deductible.

Officials explained the reason for a deadline is that without it many people might wait until they got sick before starting their $3-a-month payments. This would deal a blow to the insurance program by loading it with "adverse risks," they said.

However, there has been criticism in Congress that the March 31 deadline, specified by law, is arbitrary. The betting was that the administration would ask an extension. The Republican leadership has introduced legislation to extend the date to Aug. 31.

Romney Picture Goes On Ballot

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's picture will be on election ballots this year. Republican party officials said today—an indication he has decided to run for a third term.

He is replacing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and joining former President Abraham Lincoln on the party's vignette—a pictorial symbol used for party headings on the ballot.

Officials said the move has Romney's consent, although late last year he reportedly had discouraged such a plan.

The governor, who has insisted he has not made a decision whether to run, was not immediately available for comment.

Party spokesman said the decision had nothing to do with the fight between Democratic senatorial candidates G. Mennen Williams and Jerome Cavanagh over whether Williams' picture should be on the Democratic vignette.

The official said final decision had been made Monday, shortly before Cavanagh challenged use of Williams' picture on the Democratic vignette.

The revised vignette will be filed with the secretary of state Friday, the spokesman said.

He explained that Republicans wanted to "update the vignette."

We feel it's a state election this year, and inasmuch as Romney certainly will be the head of our ticket, we feel his picture should be on the ballot."

Klan Wizard Gives Self Up

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—Imperial Wizard Sam Hollo-way Bowers Jr., of the Mississippi White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, surrendered today to face charges growing out of the fire-bombing of a Negro civil rights leader.

Bowers, 41, a Laurel vending machine operator, had been sought since Monday when 13 others, identified by the FBI as Klansmen, were arrested on federal charges of violating the rights of the civil rights leader, Vernon Dahmer, who died after the fire-bombing of his home near here Jan. 10.

Parents Plead For Return Of Kidnaped Son

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The worried parents of Daniel Goldman have asked the kidnaper of their son to return him safely and they will meet any demand.

"You may contact us through the mail, through a clergyman, through an attorney or by direct telephone contact, but please let us hear from you immediately," the couple said in an open letter.

"We have waited patiently to receive a message from you, and in turn to deliver to you the ransom which you first demanded. We shall gladly meet any terms and conditions for the release of the boy."

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldman's quiet, 18-year-old son has been missing since before dawn Monday when a husky, middle-aged man wearing a baseball cap forced him to leave his home at gunpoint.

Maintain Vigil

The kidnaper, described by police as extremely dangerous, demanded a $25,000 ransom. He said it would double in 24 hours, and if any trouble developed Daniel's life would be in danger.

Police and FBI agents have maintained a day-and-night vigil at the Goldmans' modern home on the banks of a waterway leading to Biscayne Bay. But there has been no indication they were getting any closer to a solution.

A slightly built teen-age boy who said he knew something about the case was questioned Wednesday. If he did, police wouldn't talk about it.

Eight hours after the boy entered the Goldman home just after noon, the Goldmans' attorney, Bob Trauring, met with reporters and read an open letter from the boy's parents.

"We are addressing this statement to whomever has taken physical custody of our son, Daniel Goldman, or whoever has some personal knowledge of his present whereabouts," it said.

"We have $25,000 in bills waiting to be delivered to you. You may use any intermediary to establish the contact you want."

200 Yanks Fight 1000 Reds Near Cambodia Border

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two brigades of U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division, ranged over the rugged hills on the Cambodian frontier today, challenging a large North Vietnamese force across the border to battle.

U.S. officers said a major fight may be in the making on the scale of the 1st Cavalry's nine-day stand last fall in the Ia Drang Valley only a few miles away.

One report said two more helicopters were lost in new fighting this morning, bringing the number downed by the Communists to six. There was no confirmation of this in Saigon, however.

Demonstration Continues

The fighting in the highlands came in the midst of new anti-government demonstrations in Saigon, Da Nang and Hue with more anti-American overtones. The U.S. military command announced a tripling of enemy casualties last week and a lesser rise in U.S. Vietnamese and other allied losses.

The 1st Cavalry troops in the highlands spotted Communist elements at noon Wednesday. A 50-man unit flew by helicopter into the wooded mountains 13 miles west of the cavalry encampment at Plei Me to take on the enemy.

The battle raged heavily and a full company was called in to help. Then a second company joined in. Four helicopters were shot down. By nightfall, the troops were surrounded by an estimated 1,000 dug-in North

FORMER GOV. G. Mennen Williams' picture on the Michigan election ballot has the state Democratic Party leadership in a tizzy. The Williams likeness appears with that of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and has been a part of the official ballot's Democratic vignette for about 10 years. Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, rival of Williams for the party's U.S. Senate nomination in the Aug. 2 primary, is protesting. The deadline for any ballot change is next Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

Paycheck Does Go A Long Way

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Paychecks can be made to go a long way, though not necessarily the right way, according to Anthony Baculy of Grand Rapids.

A division manager for a New York publishing firm, his check is sent airmail special delivery on Thursday and he receives it the following day.

His check for March 4 failed to arrive and he inquired at the post office. It couldn't be found there, either, and his company sent a duplicate.

A bedraggled envelope with the original check showed up Tuesday. Baculy was unable to decipher all its travel stickers in the form of postal cancellations, but it had one postmark from Cheshire, England, plus two 7-pence stamps.

Too Late For Ballot Change

DETROIT (AP) — Former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams' picture is going to stay on the state election ballot for the Aug. 2 primary election.

It cannot come off, said the Democratic State Central Committee today, because there isn't time to make a change.

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, rival of Williams for the U.S. Senate Democratic nomination, raised the picture issue Tuesday.

Cavanagh's campaign manager, Roger Toomey, charged that the presence of Williams' picture on the official ballot gave the former six-term governor an "unfair and unethical" advantage.

State Democratic chairman Zoltan Ferency agreed at Lansing that might be true. But the Central Committee said it was "physically impossible" at this date to change the ballot's vignette. So the committee won't make any such attempt.

State Elections Director Robert Montgomery held that a certified request for a change and a copy of a new vignette would have to be filed no later than Saturday to meet with legal requirements.

The 84-member State Central Committee would have to be rounded up to approve any new vignette before it could be submitted. Committee members consider this physically impossible.

The ballot vignette is comprised of pictures of Williams and the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and a picture of the American flag. Williams' picture has been on the ballot for about 10 years.

Williams and Cavanagh are trying for the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Pat McNamara, 73, who is retiring.

The Central Committee expressed "sincere regret" that Cavanagh's backers brought up the picture matter at so late a date.

Williams' campaign manager, Eddie McGloin, charged Cavanagh was trying to portray himself "falsely" as a victim of discrimination by the Democratic party.

"It is obvious," McGloin said, "that Cavanagh's campaign manager deliberately waited until it was too late to secure a change."

Engineer Head Calls Action Clearly Illegal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 8,000 firemen struck early today on eight major railroads serving 38 states, and within nine hours one carrier shut down and another said there was "not a train running."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen headquarters here announced at 9 a. m. that its first check showed the strike "100 per cent effective" and that "There has

Idle

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger and freight trains of the Pennsylvania and the Grand Trunk Western railroads were idled in Michigan today by a Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen strike against eight major railroads.

The union said the basic issue of the strike was the railroad industry's "using the courts for delay and an outright refusal to meet any issue, including a training program for firemen, at the bargaining table."

Upper Peninsula railroads were not directly affected by the strike.

been no question of the other crafts honoring our lines."

The Missouri Pacific Railroad said at St. Louis it was shutting down its 12-state, 12,000-mile operation. A spokesman said the strike "would have a serious effect on national defense."

In Omaha a spokesman for Union Pacific Railroad, the nation's largest, said it had "not a train running," and that 70 trains were idled between the Missouri River and Ogden, Utah.

The Union Pacific employs 1,628 firemen and Mopac 1,177. The B.L.F.E. said, The Brotherhood listed the other lines struck, with number of firemen union members employed as:

Pennsylvania Railroad 3,619, Illinois Central 557, Central of Georgia 76, Seaboard Airline 465, Grand Trunk Western 164, and Boston & Maine 180.

Commuter Problems

The surprise walkout posed major commuter problems for Boston where the Boston & Maine serves about 12,000 commuters, and for Chicago where the Illinois Central transports 32,500. Transit authorities in both places made arrangements for emergency service with extra buses to affected areas.

H. E. Gilbert, President of the operating rail union, called the strike "authorized and legal and in keeping with our rights under the Railway Labor Act."

But the chief negotiator for the railroad industry, J. E. Wolfe, said in New York the strike was "completely illegal" and he would seek an injunction in U.S. District Court in Washington immediately to halt it. Wolfe flew to Washington early today.

Judicial Dispute

Perry S. Heath, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been feuding with the firemen's union, said "under the law of the land this is an illegal strike, an invasion of the jurisdictional and contractual rights of the B.L.E."

Gilbert said the basic issue of the walkout was the railroad industry's "using the courts for delay and an outright refusal to meet any issue, including a training program for firemen, at the bargaining table."

Heath said any training program for firemen would be mainly as apprentice engineers and therefore in the jurisdiction of his engineers' union, not Gilbert's firemen.

While the walkout reached into 38 states, no large segment of the nation would be without any rail transportation because parallel lines were not struck, Gilbert said. He said that since the strike was limited to eight

Jam Dam Wouldn't Be Same Without

Busy Robinson Furniture Factory

By MRS. I. R. NELSON
If you go south about 10 miles on Menominee County Road 651, off U.S. 2-41, you will be well on your way to Jam Dam, home of Robinson's Furniture Manufacturing Inc. Just before coming to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and school, turn right and about a half mile west is Robinson's factory.

Although the address is Wilson Route 1, the mill is in the heart of the Jam Dam settlement, a hilly terrain with many small farms. Many of these people augment their farm income by working at Robinson's.

The factory, lumber yard and new dry kiln cover about 10 acres. The kiln, added last year, dries all the wood used for making furniture, usually on a 3-shift basis. Most of the logs are bought from farmers and jobbers in a 100 mile radius. It is sawed and dried at the plant.

Family Corporation
The furniture company, incorporated, is under the management of the president, Earl Robinson, Jr., his wife is secretary-treasurer, and his father, Earl, Sr., is vice-president. Mrs. Robinson was formerly Marlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Lanaville of Jam Dam.

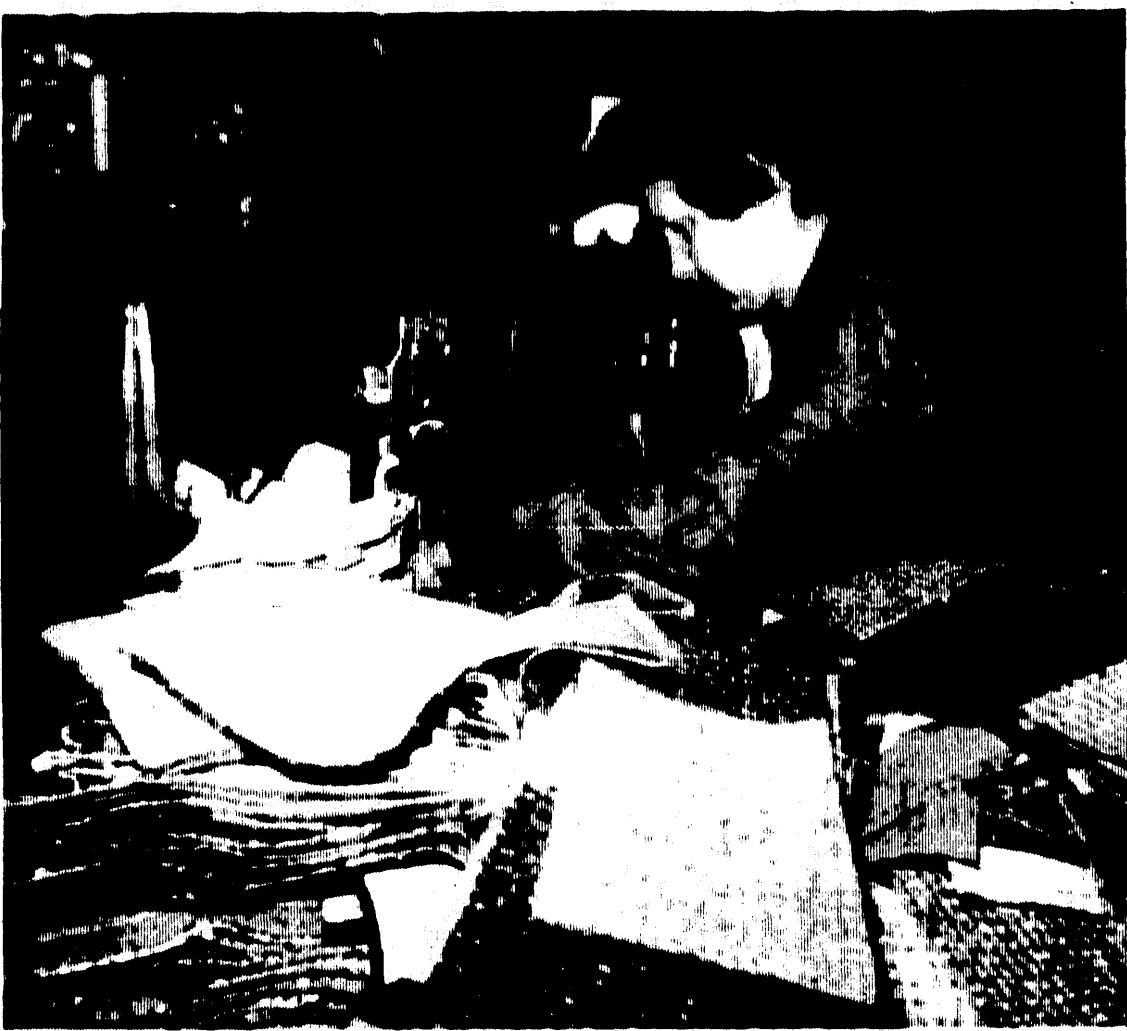

The Robinsons came from Naperville, Indiana about 1946 and started making furniture in 1952, mostly juvenile chairs. This is now done seasonally for the Christmas trade. For the past six or seven years the emphasis has been on adult furniture: Early American Cricket, Danish, Danish modern and colonial.

"The early American Cricket furniture is our best seller," said Robinson. "Presently there are about 75 people on the payroll, but the number will increase to nearly 100 in late summer and decrease in the slack winter months."

Some From Escanaba
During the summer months students are employed to supplement the regulars. Employees are largely from the Jam Dam-Wilson area but some come from Escanaba, Soo Hill, Perronville, Hermansville and Carney. There are approximately 30 women employed throughout the year.

Most of the furniture, four or five truckloads weekly, is shipped throughout the Midwest. Pins denoting buyers of their furniture, make the maps of these states look like overstuffed pincushions.

The process of making the furniture begins when the logs,

TWO SCENES IN THE busy plant of Robinson's furniture Manufacturing, Inc., at Jam Dam are shown. Top, a woman worker sewing upholstery for one of the chairs manufactured by the plant, which is the chief support of the rural community, and, bottom, a male worker installs the leg assembly of a chair. mostly hard maple, are received at the plant. These are dried, planed, sanded, assembled, dip or spray varnished, dried, upholstered, packed and loaded in trucks for shipment to jobbers and retail stores.

"We hope that in the near future all our sales will be to retail stores," Robinson said. "We have salesmen covering much of the territory, which has helped to increase our volume of sales."

On a tour through the plant it was fascinating to watch a rough piece of wood go through a planer and come out smooth and rounded. Each machine planes a different size wood, which becomes spindles for the chair backs, legs, arms, braces and backs.

In the sewing department, as elsewhere in the mill, each woman has a specific job in making the upholstery. Being a woman and having sewed a little, made this department particularly intriguing for me. Cording and making square corners on cushions always presented difficulties.

Did you ever try to stuff a cushion top with a square of foam rubber? Problems galore! Not so at Robinson's. The foam square is put in a press, the pillow cover held at the ready and when the press is released the square pops into the pillow cover as easy as pie. It then goes to sewer who stitches the cover closed.

"A large variety of upholstery fabrics is used depending on the type of furniture," said Robinson. "plastic, vinyl, corduroy and cottons, mostly prints and fringes with a large selection of colors in each fabric and style."

When asked about future expansion Robinson replied, "We have no present plans, as we added the dry kiln last year, but if the business increases volume-wise to warrant it we may need to expand in a year or two."

Lake Levels Near Normal

By July or August of this year no section of the Great Lakes system is expected to have lake levels more than about 10 inches below the long-range (1860-1965) average, reports the Great Lakes Commission.

The forecast levels, as estimated by the U. S. Lake Survey, show summer peaks being reached in July or August on the several lakes. At that time the levels will range from 1.2 to 2.7 feet above low water datum.

The gains over the 1965 highs will be from 0.6 feet on Lake Superior to 1.6 feet for Lakes Michigan-Huron.

The probable 1966 peak levels are expected to be up 0.6 on Lake Superior, up 1.6 feet on Lakes Michigan-Huron to near the long-range average, up 0.9 on Lakes Erie and Ontario.

The increased levels are the result of increased precipitation over the Great Lakes Basin in 1965, which averaged 35.57 inches—the highest since 1959 and about 14 per cent above the annual average. The above-normal condition was most notable on the upper Lakes, the leader being Lake Michigan with 18.5 per cent over the average and nearly 50 per cent more than the low-water year of 1963.

Last year in an effort to sustain the levels of Lake Michigan-Huron water in larger volume was allowed out of Lake Superior. Because of the increased precipitation, Lake Superior was higher at the end of the year than at the outset.

Vernors To Sell To Lawrence If Stockholders OK

Directors of Vernors Inc., Detroit-based soft drink firm, have approved a plan whereby the business and assets of the company will be acquired by a group of institutional investors headed by Cyrus J. Lawrence & Sons, members of the New York Stock Exchange.

Under the plan, it is contemplated that there will be distributed to shareholders by the company, $9 per share upon closing the transaction and a nominal additional amount at a later date. The plan is subject to the approval of two-thirds of the common shares. That a special meeting of shareholders will be called in May to pass upon the proposal.

One of the oldest soft drink firms in America, Vernors was founded in Detroit in June of 1866 by James Vernor. A druggist, he held the No. 1 pharmaceutical license in Michigan.

Vernors, made from a secret formula passed down from the founder, is unique in that there are few, if any, soft drinks like it in the country today.

The present plant at 4501 Woodward, houses the headquarters for the operation, but the company operates a bottling plant at Toledo, and branch plants in Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Ann Arbor, Jackson and Lansing.

There are about 50 franchise bottlers of Vernors in the United States. The Vernors franchise holder here is Vernors Ginger Ale Bottling Co. of Escanaba, 1613 Ludington St.

Offer Advice On Intangibles Tax Returns To State

Intangibles tax returns are due not later than April 30, and Gerald Babel, representing the Michigan Department of Revenue, will be in Room 101 at the State Office Building from 1 to 5 p. m. on April 4, 11, 18 and 25.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100 per cent taxable including Michigan Corporations.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Babel will advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangibles Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year, and copy of the previous year's return filed with the Department.

License Needed To Fish After 17

A license is required to fish in Michigan inland waters by all persons who have passed their 17th birthday. Cost to residents is $2. Persons 65 years of age or over may purchase a fishing license for 50 cents.

With this general fishing license, you may take any kind of fish except brook, brown and rainbow trout. Splake, which is a cross between the brook trout and lake trout are listed with the trout and a trout stamp is required.

Smelt will be running the streams that are tributary to both Lake Superior and Michigan soon. Smelt may be taken with a hand net not more than 5 feet in diameter. A license is required to fish smelt in an inland stream.

Mac Danielson In Senate Race

F. Mac Danielson

An Escanaba native, F. Mac Danielson, 38, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Danielson of 508 S. 7th St., will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the Iowa Senate.

To enter the political field, Danielson resigned his position as radio-TV newsmen in Des Moines, Iowa. He has held news jobs for nearly 15 years after attending Drake University in Des Moines.

Danielson is a 1945 graduate of Escanaba High School, where he participated in drama and speech; and in wartime military service was in the U.S. Navy.

Danielson's "beat" had been the Iowa Statehouse, covering each biennial session of the Iowa Legislature since 1953. For the past several sessions his specific assignment was been in the Senate.

At the present time, Iowa is operating under a "temporary" reapportionment of its legislature, with a House of 124 members and a Senate of 61. Des Moines (a city of about 280,000) is located in Polk County which will have five Senators in 1967. Four of those seats are up for election this fall, three for 4-year terms and one for a 2-year term.

Danielson will be seeking nomination for one of the 4-year terms in the September primary election. In recent years, Polk County has voted heavily Democratic in the November general elections.

He is married and has three children: Jim, 15, Deirdre, 9, and Eric, 8.

Arriving home with an AM-FM radio, a gift from fellow employees on his last day, Danielson found a Daily Press clipping in the mail announcing that his father, for many years news editor of the Press, had also retired and had been presented with an AM-FM radio.

Students To Study Money

Bank Sponsors Conferees

Two Escanaba high school students have been named to attend the 6th annual Economic Conference for Young Adults in Minneapolis April 21-23, as guests of the First National Bank of Minneapolis, which is sponsoring a local pair for the third year.

The honorees are Mickey Marcouiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marcouiller, 912 5th Ave. S., of Escanaba Area High School, and Richard Milkiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Milkiewicz, Ford River, of Holy Name High School. They were selected by school authorities and the bank will pay the expense of their visit to Minneapolis, where they will attend the two and a half day conference with over 260 high school students from all parts of the Upper Midwest.

The purpose of the sessions is to stimulate the interest of young people in building for financial security and to give them a fuller understanding of modern money and banking systems.

The conferees will tour the Twin Cities and its monetary, cultural and scientific installations, hear many eminent speakers, and take part in workshop sessions.

Builders License Law Is Delayed

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney Wednesday signed into law a bill delaying the effective date of a new code for state licensing of residential builders until Sept. 1.

The 1965 licensing act was scheduled to take effect Friday. The Legislature voted for the extra five months delay as a result of problems of bonding and state administration which had developed since the law was passed last year.

The Delta County Heating & Plumbing Association today delayed plans for an opposition meeting at Escanaba after receiving word that the effective date of the controversial act has been delayed.

The meeting was to have been for all building trades contractors in the region — with anywhere from 500 to 1,000 expected to attend. Rep. Thomas Schweigert (R) was to have been invited to discuss the new law.

There was state-wide opposition to the state's new bonding and licensing law covering home builders, modernization and alterations contractors.

The opposition brought meetings of indignation in many cities of Michigan. The protests were growing in number and apparently had their effect in bringing a delay in what some Republican legislators called "a very bad law."

The licensing of all home building contractors and the requirement of posting a bond up to $10,000 was a part of the new law, which was to have gone into effect on April 1.

Opponents to the measure claim the bonding provisions would drive the smaller contractors out of business.

Citizens Group Discusses Plans For Improvement

HERMANVILLE—The Citizens Improvement Association, a group promoting the interests of Meyer Township met recently in the Community Club lodge rooms. The newly elected officers, Roger Hull, president; Richard Lungenhausen, vice president; Woodrow Trudell, treasurer; and Francis Christenson, secretary, conducted the meeting.

Hull said efforts will be made to improve attendance.

The group passed a resolution authorizing the secretary to write Supervisor Fazer of Spaulding township regarding extension of the scenic road from the River Road to the Vega Road.

A report was given on the U. P. Volunteer Firemen's Association convention which will be held at Menominee on Aug. 4-5-6.

The group will cooperate with the Township Board in its annual "Cleanup-Fix Up" week which will be held this spring. It was noted that last year's campaign was highly successful.

James Gribble, Hermansville's chairman for Michigan Week, reported that a number of activities are planned this year.

The group will extend its cooperation to Mrs. Roland St. Onge who is holding classes in ceramics and painting in the former post office building every week.

Unfair Charge Filed On U-M

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A labor union seeking to represent non-teaching employees filed charges of unfair labor practices against the University of Michigan Wednesday.

A. L. Zwerdling, attorney for the Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, filed the charges with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board. He alleged U-M refused to bargain and attempted to break the union by extending benefits to employees on a unilateral basis.

Zwerdling said the charges resulted from the announcement Feb. 23 of increases in overtime pay, shift differentials and health insurance benefits for university workers.

U-M regents have fought bids by various unions to represent employees, contending the university is constitutionally exempt from a 1965 law requiring collective bargaining with employees.

Democratic Skirmish

One of the attractions of the University of Michigan's "Weekend With the Professors" for the Upper Peninsula in Escanaba recently was a chance for the "students" to ask the professors a lot of questions.

When Professor James Pollock, the political scientist, was asked about the U.S. Senate contest he indicated a personal preference for ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams over Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, but said that he could vote for neither.

It would in the professor's view be unwise for Michigan to elect a second Democrat to the Senate. It already has Philip Hart there, presenting the state's Democratic views. To elect another Democrat would disfranchise the Republicans of Michigan in the Upper House, as they are today. So his academic preference is for Republican candidate Congressman Robert Griffin.

Nearly 3,000 Democratic party leaders gathered in Detroit recently for the party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day program at Cobo Hall and both Williams and Cavanagh were there, along with some of the Democratic prospects for governor. It was Soapy Williams' day, with the 6-times governor far outshining Detroit's mayor in personal popularity. His progress was a triumphal procession, but Cavanagh said "This was his ball park. I'm sure the crowd will be with me in other ball parks."

The primary campaign will tell. It may be prophetic that Williams and Cavanagh hope to succeed Senator Pat McNamara and just 12 years ago he tore up his tickets for a similar affair because he charged that the Democratic party machinery was rigged in favor of Blair Moody. Moody died in the course of the primary campaign and McNamara won the nomination and unseated Homer Ferguson in the election.

The party machinery is naturally in favor of Williams at this time, no matter what the protestations about "hands off" in the primary, because of the former governor's long leadership in the party and eminence in it and Cavanagh's newcomer status. But it would switch in a political twinkling if Cavanagh were to be the nominee. The mayor is the obvious underdog, but he is young, he is a scrapper, he is astute enough to have become deservedly famous as the mayor of Detroit and to have told the Democratic party leaders in the state that he wouldn't run against George Romney for governor and get licked; that he'd run against Soapy Williams for the Senate.

The Williams-Cavanagh contest starts off with a cry of "low blow" from the Cavanagh camp because the Michigan election ballot has a picture of Soapy Williams on it. Williams' picture has been there for 10 years, along with a picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the American flag, but he hasn't been governor for 6 years and he's not dead like Mr. Roosevelt, but a real live politician seeking the Democratic nomination. It would be a bit like Lyndon Johnson having his picture on our currency and a neat little suggestion "Vote for LBJ" before the presidential election.

The Williams campaign is expected to stress Soapy's record as governor, and it will be safer to do this running for the Senate than running for governor, because it will be less subject to retort, and also his service since then at the State Department's Africa desk. Cavanagh will cite his record in Detroit and probably suggest that he can get more for Michigan from Washington than Soapy can.

The only sure thing about the Democratic contest for nomination for governor is that Johnny Voelker won't enter it. He told the Detroit News "Rumor has reached me that some wheels in the Democratic Party want me to run for governor and that I'm coyly toying with the idea. I'll answer by saying what John L. Lewis once said after examining the head of a hated rival: 'There's nothing in it.'"

We dislike to question the exactitude of Voelker's quotation and John L. Lewis mouthed many quotable (and some unprintable) things, but might he be recalling Lewis' statement that his hated rival had no head—"that his neck just furrowed over?"

With Voelker out of the race and waiting to fish trout the Democrats have also scratched Congressman John C. Mackie, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, all of whom were wooed ardently. Left among the prospects are Zoltan Ferency, the party's retiring, super-charged state chairman; George E. Bushnell, Jr., Detroit attorney and son of a supreme court justice; State Senator Majority Leader Raymond D. Dzundzel; Louis Funk, Wayne (Detroit) County treasurer, and Joseph E. Mihelich, East Detroit attorney.

The political jellybag is still dripping and there's no jell yet.

The Doctor Says:

Hazards Real In Home

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

A severe itching eruption on a subject can profit from covering most of the body at night. He must first be covered in five members of a family. After consideration, this would eliminate sleuthing, a doctor found that the mother had been used along with hypnosis curtains in a machine, along to help break children of such with the family underwear, habits as bed-wetting and nail Minute bits of glass fiber biting but with questionable thereby became impregnated in the family's clothing and produced the itch which is said to be worse than that of woolen undergarments.

That is what might be called learning about modern hazards the hard way. This should serve as a warning not to go and do likewise.

Q—Is it possible to learn while sleeping by means of records?

A—Since the first reports of sleep learning were published, commercial interests have promoted the sale of a variety of records for this purpose. Although the process has its enthusiasts, most scientists believe that it is impractical.

Any learning that is accomplished by this means occurs only when the subject is in a drowsy or half-waking state.

A—False. Aluminum exposure to the air forms a thin layer believe that the subject may not suffer some of the effects of deprivation of sleep. One observer states that, however, aluminum or any other food.

James Frost Recollects When

Escanaba Had 75 Saloons

James E. Frost

Atty. James E. Frost told fellow Rotarians at their luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington on Tuesday of the delights of growing up in Old Escanaba, when Ludington St. was paved with cedar blocks and the trolley cars ran out to Old South Park, which is now the city's Lake Shore Drive residential area.

The Escanaba of his youth, said Frost, had a Ludington St. with "mostly one and two story buildings and it was reputed to have 100 saloons and the city directory of 1893 lists 75 of them. The saloon keepers had a fancier name for them; they called them 'sample rooms' and judging by the number of them there must have been a lot of sampling going on.

"When a Fayette saloon owner bought a barrel of spirits in Escanaba in the winter and took it home he found upon arrival that the contents had frozen. When the buyer complained the seller explained: 'I must have made a mistake; I must have sold you a barrel of summer whisky!'"

"We boys played along the south shore where Ludington Park is now and we would swim, sail, shoot and fish there. The Rev. F. S. W. Green was a yachtsman who owned the sailboats Rambler and the Brilliant and I was a friend of his sons and got to sail on them. He would sail to Stonington to deliver a sermon on Sunday and then return in the evening for the services here.

"The first lake ore boats only carried about a thousand tons of ore but later they got the cargoes up to 5,000 tons and now the biggest boats carry as much as 25,000 tons. I saw the steamer Nahant when it caught fire at an ore dock and set the dock afire. A tug got it away and it sank off Ludington Park where it's marked by a buoy today. We used to boat over it and look down on the hulls.

Tug Races
"The tug Tomlinson and another tug were stationed here and when an ore carrier with a tow showed up off Peninsula Point the tugs would race to get the tow. We boys kept in touch with the shipping.

"Captain George N. Shipman had the tug Wawa. They said that he stuttered and that he really intended to name his tug the Washington, but that when he told the painter to put the name on he stuttered "Wa-wa-wa-wa" and the painter told him that was enough, that he understood and he went ahead and put the name on the tug: "Wa-wa."

"Captain Allie E. Shipman had a steamer like the Lotus that he used to run from Escanaba to Gladstone, Masonville, Rapid River and Garth.

"Alf Kirsten operated the Kirsten One-Man Stump Puller Co. here in Escanaba and did a mail order business all over the world. After the roots were cut a man was supposed to be able to pull out a stump with his own efforts in that land clearing period with a Kirsten machine.

Stump Puller Industry
"Kirsten was a favorite of John C. Kirkpatrick, the head of the National Pole Co., who had the whole top floor of the Escanaba National Bank Co. building and he was in the Kirsten business. They also had a lookup device that would prevent other persons from listening in on their conversation on a rural telephone line, and a hydrostatic gauge for measuring the gasoline in your auto tank. The gauge looked like the best idea that the entrepreneurs had developed, but just then the electric gas gauge came out and the hydrostatic gauge faded.

"I grew up in an age of bicycles. Our prominent businessmen rode bicycles. President J. K. Stack of the Escanaba National Bank would ride down Ludington St. on his bicycle and so would W. W. Oliver, who founded the Delta Hardware Co., which later became the Morley-Murphy Co.

Cattle Grazed
"The chainless bicycle was an innovation in that period and a Sunday morning run out to Ford River on a bicycle was the 'in' thing. Women wore pantaloons for cycling and there were races and parades and much excitement.

"At one period we thought this was going to be a cattle fattening area and large numbers of beef cattle were imported and turned out on our ranges, but they found that our grass didn't have the nutrient qualities of western grasses. A cowboy explained to me that 'You can see a cow on a western range for a mile, but here one can be in the brush 25 feet away and you can't see it when you want to round up the cattle.'

"There was a sheep grazing period here too. I own several acres of land on the Days River that I bought for sentiment's sake. When I was a boy and stayed with an aunt and uncle at Brampton in the summer I would fish the Days down to that area and figure that I was lost. There was a sheep ranch there but it didn't pan out.

First Settler
"The directory of 1893 stated that Francis J. Dunn, the first settler of Escanaba, built the first log cabin here and was the father of the first white child born in the city. Nelson Ludington (Ludington St. and Park were named for him) presented the father with a building lot in honor of the first born. Their residence was at 505 Ludington St.

"The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce of today might be interested in the way that the city presented itself in the directory of 1893:

"Escanaba, as a home is one of the most delightful cities in the Northwest. It possesses advantages that cannot be overlooked by those desirous of establishing themselves in a healthy locality for purposes of trade, commerce or business of almost any description.

No Tenements
"A stranger from any of the larger cities, upon his entrance to Escanaba, is struck by the utter absence of tenement houses—those fearful scourges, the hotbeds of crime and pestilence in so many communities throughout the civilized world. Escanaba does not need them; her unlimited capacity for extension in every direction is a practical barrier to the fabulous prices obtained for land in other cities, and rents are so reasonable and the rates for living so much less expensive than elsewhere that the humblest mechanic or laborer can ensconce his family in a modest dwelling and surround them with the pleasure and comforts of home, instead of indiscriminate herding of the industrious and the slothful, the sober and the drunken, the upright and the criminal and the promiscuous mingling of the sexes, so destructive both to morality and to life itself."

Tonight a gentle soul died. He was a man who never cursed, drank to any excess or partook of the "ladies of the night". He was a top notch hospital corpsman and many a Marine owe their life to "Doc". He always had a kind word for someone and a smile no matter how bad the conditions were. Above all, he believed in what he was fighting for, the American way of life.

"They are just kids, give them time and they will grow into men", he said of the anti-Viet Nam marchers.

That's the way he was. Supreme faith in God and mankind; you won't find that very often from a man not yet 26. Now, never to reach that age.

He died in action, just 18 miles South of Chu Lai, just 18 miles from hot meals, movies and safety. Eighteen miles may as well be a thousand when you are out there at night. It's a dark road home for "Doc" Gilles. A road you only travel once.

Maybe some day back home will read this and maybe they'll understand why he had to die. Maybe they'll understand that if this were not here, it might be happening at home 25 or 50 years from now, when it would be too late.

I hope so.

Take a look now at William Crockett, deputy undersecretary for administration at State. He is reported to have collaborated with the White House to reorganize Schwartz's job out of existence and thus combat congressional enemies of his liberal policies.

Foreign Service officers dislike Crockett for alleged "gimmickry" in reorganizing their operations. They say he toadies to Congress.

But in 1964 the concerned Senate committee, under prod of senators disgruntled over Crockett's handling of two controversial department officers (include here the celebrated Otto Otepka), held up for months Crockett's elevation to the higher salary grade of career minister.

A couple of years earlier, Crockett's previous job as assistant secretary for administration was nearly abolished on recommendation of William Orrick, his immediate predecessor as chief.

Curiously, Crockett saved his post by making the same kind of fuss many in the department now believe Schwartz is making. His own example may have been in mind when it was decided to give Schwartz no real advance notice his bureau might vanish.

If that was the idea, department authorities underestimated the vocal power and influence of Schwartz's friends. Almost overnight they built a backfire big enough to menace the liberals' larger target—President Johnson.

The key question is how much truth was swept away in the blaze. This report attempts no definitive answer. It simply suggests that no real case of any sort has been proved.

HAMLET

Last Thursday night the people of this area were fortunate to be able to view an excellent production of Hamlet at the Area High School Auditorium. A near capacity audience filled the auditorium on a very nasty night, and over a hundred stayed after the performance to meet the players in a reception held in the teachers lounge.

I believe the members of the audience would be interested in some of the observations of the cast. The beauty and spaciousness of the auditorium and its stage, were repeatedly commented on.

THIS WAS the first stage they had been on where they were able to use their complete set. The lighting arrangement, and the dressing rooms were also a pleasant surprise to the cast.

We expected, because of the weather conditions, a relatively small audience, and here again we were all surprised at the numbers who ventured out on such a nasty night. The audience's reaction, acceptance, and attention drew appreciative comments for the group. According to them it was the best audience they had played to in the U. P.

THE RECEPTION, supervised by Mrs. J. T. Wren, was a great success. This was the first time any group had given such a 'Let's get acquainted' party for the players, and they again were very vocal in their appreciation. The opportunity to meet local college students, members of the faculty of Bay de Noc College, members of the Player's de Noc, and the families who so generously volunteered to house them for the night, over a doughnut and a cup of coffee was an unexpected pleasure for them.

They expressed their delight with the auditorium, audience, and the friendly acceptance of the community in the announcement that they would be more than pleased to come back again next spring with their new production. We have a school and community of which we can all be proud.

Details Muddy It

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Inflamed over the Viet Nam issue, Washington in the unfolding spring of 1966 seems to be losing steadily its residual capacity for weighing dispassionately the facts of any controversy.

Too many people in this town are fired up and over-committed.

Whichever side they are on in the Viet Nam dispute, they seem ready to ascribe to their adversaries a whole catalogue of sins. If it supports their view of the "other side," they eagerly grasp at rumor, assumption, unproved allegation.

The State Department's now celebrated Abba Schwartz affair has to be considered against this backdrop.

In the great rush of printed reaction to his resignation as head of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, the matter was painted in glaring black and white as a head-on collision between Schwartz, an accepted liberal on immigration and visa policies, and various reactionaries in the department, in Capitol Hill, and even in the White House.

The evidence for this version, which is taking on the character of Holy Writ, consists largely of bold assertion, plus a handful of inconclusive factual fragments.

Left out of account are a considerable assortment of facts and attitudes which do not fit easily into a "get Schwartz for his liberal views" kind of conspiracy. It must be added that they do not help build a clear picture of another sort, either.

For instance, though people are not speaking out, it is an easily checkable fact that a

Color Me Barbra Has Her In Orbit

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last year at about this time, Barbra Streisand with a sleek, chic and tuneful one-woman show, shot dramatically into the television firmament. Now, after Wednesday night's stunning "Color Me Barbra," Miss Streisand is solidly in orbit. The second special actually topped her first one.

From the amusing little squiggle like a child's drawing that opened the hour to its almost quiet finish it was a handsome and imaginative production, the most stimulating entertainment of the season to date.

Miss Streisand first took us to the Philadelphia Museum of Art where in a chiffon and lace exaggeration of a maid's uniform, she scurried from hall to hall, pausing before this painting or that piece of sculpture and then was transformed by TV magic into the subject long enough for a number.

She sang "One Kiss" looking like and dressed like a Gainsborough lady, a despairing French lament posing like a sad model in an impressionist painting, "Where Or When" dressed like an Egyptian princess. Between numbers she indulged in bits of sly comedy.

Then came a gay circus sequence with Miss Streisand in a clown costume wandering around the ring singing affectionately to a pony, a llama, a baby elephant, an ant eater and a family of penguins.

The windup was Miss Streisand in a simple white gown singing more well-loved songs, including the old "It Had To Be You" and "C'est Si Bon."

Earlier, on ABC, there was a musical special in cartoon form updating the adventures of Alice in Wonderland. This time Alice, a very modern little girl, disappeared through the front of the family TV set in quest of her dog. But she shrank and grew tall, encountered the white rabbit, the mad hatter, the March hare and many of the other Lewis Carroll characters.

The lyrics were appropriate to the fantasy but the music, while tuneful, was not particularly catchy. The piece, though, did have a real dream quality about it. The drawings, particularly the animation of Alice were a bit stiff and primitively drawn. It was on the whole a bit of fun, suitable for family viewing but hardly memorable.

Mid-U.P. Library Federation

Offers Public 160,000 Books

How do you go about juggling 160,000 books among libraries spread across 270 miles of the Upper Peninsula? The Mid-Peninsula Library Federation is resorting to a truck to do the job.

"That's a lot of books, and they weigh a lot," said Ralph Secord, director of the Federation, which has its headquarters at the Dickinson County Library in Iron Mountain. It serves its members in six U.P. counties, stretching from the west end of Iron County to Grand Marais in eastern Alger County. Between those stops are libraries in Menominee, Delta, Dickinson and Schoolcraft counties. The 160,000 volumes are the property of the six member libraries, but all are available for interlibrary loan within the six counties. In addition, the Federation has a "pool" collection used to serve communities formerly without library facilities. These books are rotated every few months so that readers in each of the communities will have access to them.

New books, and other materials, are being added to the supply constantly, and while some worn-out and out-dated volumes may be discarded, more new ones are being brought in to keep the stock growing.

Truck Brought

"The Federation's board of directors recently asked for bids for a side-opening panel delivery truck to handle the work of rotating books, and the proposal of Ken's Motor Sales of Iron Mountain was accepted," Secord said. "We expect to have the truck in service about mid-April, and then we will begin regular deliveries to each of our libraries."

The Federation, which was organized late in 1964, at present has a six-member board of directors. Victor Powers of Escanaba is chairman, Mrs. David Jondrow of Gladstone is secretary and Secord is treasurer, as well as director. Other members are Paul Trione of Norway, Mrs. Arnold Ahlberg of Crystal Falls, Mrs. Frances Lombard of Hermansville, and Earl LaBrasseur of Manistique. In April a new eight-member board will be elected to carry on and expand the Federation's functions.

Pool Resources

"What we are trying to do is to pool all of the resources of our membership so that each one will get a lot more out of it for the money and effort involved," Secord explained. "We have this large supply of books and material to start with. In addition, the Federation offers central storage and advisory services to libraries. Future plans call for centralized purchasing and book processing, reference and other services that will help to weld our membership and operation together."

The Federation's long-range plans include the possible use of bookmobiles to bring library services still closer to the people, more audiovisual equipment, and a larger staff of professional and trained persons to improve and extend services.

Member Libraries

The Federation's membership is comprised of: Crystal Falls Community Library, Dickinson County Library, Escanaba Public Library, Gladstone School and Public Library, Manistique School and Public Library, Menominee County Library, Munising School and Public Library.

While those units service their own areas, with assistance from the Federation, the Federation, by contract with county library boards, goes into other areas which do not have library service and helps to set up local operations. Seven of those "station libraries" are now functioning in: Iron River, through the Iron County Library; Cooks, Gulliver and Germfask, all in Schoolcraft County; Chatham and Grand Marais, both in Alger County; and Garden in Delta County. An eighth will be opened in the near future at Nahma, in Delta County.

Most of the station libraries are located in schools or township halls, and are sponsored by local organizations and staffed mostly by volunteers. Each is open several afternoons or evenings each week, at times convenient to the public. The services rendered are free.

Barron Resigns

Kienholz Exhibit, Called Obscene, Crowds Museum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Museum of Art now knows a hard fact of show business — nothing sells tickets like sex.

An exhibit of junkyard assemblages by artist Edward Kienholz opened Wednesday featuring love in the back seat of a Dodge and a house of ill repute. Both had been labeled pornographic and obscene by some county officials.

Result — the biggest one-day crowd in the one-year history of the museum. Tickets are $1 each.

The crowd, counted at 1,582 by the time the doors closed at 5 p.m., had formed a serpentine line outside the museum all day.

Most of the Kienholz viewers said they were attracted by the publicity. Few called his work pornographic.

"Actually," said Mrs. Lionel Bell, head of the volunteer women guides, "we found no one outraged. Lots of people even found the controversial items puritanical, which was the artist's intent."

Mrs. Bell was one of the few persons allowed to open the door of "Back Seat Dodge—38."

A closed-door policy followed a hassle between county supervisors and Kienholz which almost canceled the exhibit.

With door closed, the exhibit looks like a rear half of a battered car in a junkyard. Open, you see an aggressive male made of chicken wire and the mannikin legs of a girl.

Supervisor Warren Dorn, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said it depicted a couple making love.

Not so, says Mrs. Bell.

"You will note that the girl is fully clothed. Instead of sexy, it is tawdry. She is dodging seduction as many a girl in a back seat has had to do."

The house of ill repute — a full-sized replica of the reception room at a place called "Roxy's" — was not deemed offensive by most.

Most controversial of the mannikin inmates of "Roxy's" is a naked girl lying atop an old-fashioned sewing machine, a rose at her throat. It's called "S5 Billie."

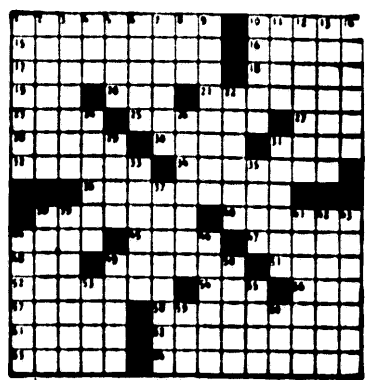

When the guide pumps the sewing machine, her body gyrates.

One of the viewers, Municipal Judge Noel Cannon, said, "As a woman and as a judge, I was not upset by the exhibit in any aspect. It would not be prohibited by the U. S. Supreme Court."

Outside the museum an evangelist and his wife paraded with placards which read: "Kienholz is just an ungodly man who needs Jesus."

Centennial Tea Will Be Event Of Weekend

Ushering in the new Spring season in Escanaba will be the annual Spring Tea sponsored by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

It will be held Saturday, April 2, at the Westminster Hall of the church, which is located at 1st Ave. S. and 9th St. The tea is scheduled to begin at 2:30 in the afternoon.

In conjunction with the centennial celebration of the First Presbyterian Church the Women's Association has designated ed this to be a Centennial Tea. Many articles being restored and prepared for the centennial celebration will be on display at the tea.

Members of the various committees will be dressed in centennial costume and ladies attending are also invited to do so, dress is optional however.

As usual, a cordial invitation is extended to all interested persons in the Escanaba area.

The special program of the afternoon will feature the musical selections presented by the Escanaba String Ensemble.

Mrs. Don Allis is general chairman of the affair with Mrs. Raymond Hockstad assisting chairman. Various committee chairmen include: Mrs. Donald Fitch, program chairman; Mrs. Scott Eagleson and Mrs. Zimmer, chairmen of the tea committee.

Rev. K. Wipp Guest Speaker At Key Club

The newly organized Holy Name High School Key Club held its first monthly dinner meeting at the Sherman Hotel last evening.

The Rev. Konstantin Wipp of the First Methodist Church was the main speaker and told of experiences in Europe both before and during World War II. Brent Kleiman, president of the Escanaba Area High School Orange and Black was also present.

Plans co-ordinating the roles that the two high school service clubs will play in the Delta County Cancer Crusade were discussed.

In addition to its monthly dinner meeting, the Key Club has a luncheon meeting every Thursday at Holy Name High School.

Hermansville

Merit award tests were given at the weekly meeting of the Hermansville Boy Scout troop, 478 at the Community Club Monday evening. Seventeen boys attended the meeting. Ray Gurgall, is scoutmaster and assistants are, Roland Baribeau, Gerald Welton, Joseph Urick and Ted Gurgall. On April 30 the parents of the boy scouts will be guests at a luncheon in the club house.

Ann, Escanaba; St. Anthony, Wells; St. George, Bark River and All Saints, Gladstone.

Announcement was made of the MDCCW Convention which will be held in Marquette, April 30 and May 1, with recommendations made that each parish unit send an official delegate and a delegation of women as well. The meeting closed with a prayer for Mrs. Ray Teal, president of the deanery, who underwent major surgery at Rochester in January.

Dettman Named Committee Head

WAUSAU, Wis.—The Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee has elected a Michigan man to serve as president. Harold Dettman of St. Ignace was elected to replace Harvey Wolter of Eagle River, Wis. Selected to head up an advisory group serving the Michigan-Wisconsin-Minnesota committee was Nyle L. Katz of East Lansing, director of the Michigan Farmers Home Administration program.

Wisconsin's Gov. Warren P. Knowles told members of the committee last week that they can perform an important advisory function to the recently formed and federally financed Northern Great Lakes Commission.

Knowles said that the main function of the new commission will be to coordinate recommendations from economic development programs made by the three states. Northern counties in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin are involved in the new commission which will be financed through the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Knowles stressed that proposals for research and action programs are needed before funds can be appropriated, and that the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee, as well as other interested groups, are welcome to submit proposals. "There is no money available for the implementation of the commission until the comprehensive development plan is submitted," Knowles stated.

The commission, just recently created, represents one of the first federally financed attempts to develop meaningful long-range action and research programs to assist the economic development of the region.

Gulf Stream Eddy Breaks Off Mainstream

WASHINGTON (AP)—To the delight of oceanographers, a piece of the Gulf Stream has broken loose from its parent current and is going round and round 600 miles east of Boston.

The reason the scientists are pleased is this:

The newly discovered eddy—or whirlpool—of warm water, about 50 miles in diameter, is a kind of made-to-order laboratory to help them in complex studies which could some day result in accurate long-range weather forecasts and—who knows?—maybe weather controls.

The elaborately equipped ship Explorer, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which has recently been at Norfolk, Va., is due to take to sea again soon to study the eddy in detail. And a special plane from the naval air station at Patuxent, Md., is expected to cooperate. It can spot the eddy by means of an infrared radiation thermometer.

Harold Dettman

The tri-state committee, an outgrowth of the 1963 Land and People Conference in Duluth, passed a resolution urging that training and safety programs be established for woods workers to lessen the risks involved in the jobs and to increase profits of the timber workers. Members also asked consultants to investigate the possibilities of long-range contracts for the woods workers to stabilize demand for their services. Consultants are provided by several of the U. S. Department of Agriculture agencies and by Michigan State University and the land grant institutions in the two other states.

In other resolutions, committee members requested that Cooperative Extension Division in the three states provide economic information to the forestry industry as a means of increasing profits. Every county in the Northern Great Lakes region was urged to establish county planning commissions. Committee members felt that such commissions were essential for coordination of state and Federal programs.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at Traverse City May 24-25. Committee members will focus on opportunities in fruit and beef production in the area.

Danforth

Extension Meet
Mrs. Harvey Fournier was hostess to the Danforth-Soo Hill Home Extension group last evening at her home. The evening was spent making Easter egg trees under the direction of Mrs. Kermit Bender.

Lunch was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting. The next meeting will be held April 25 and the place will be announced at a later date.

Rhonda Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Bender, who had emergency surgery at St. Francis Hospital has been dismissed and is recuperating at home.

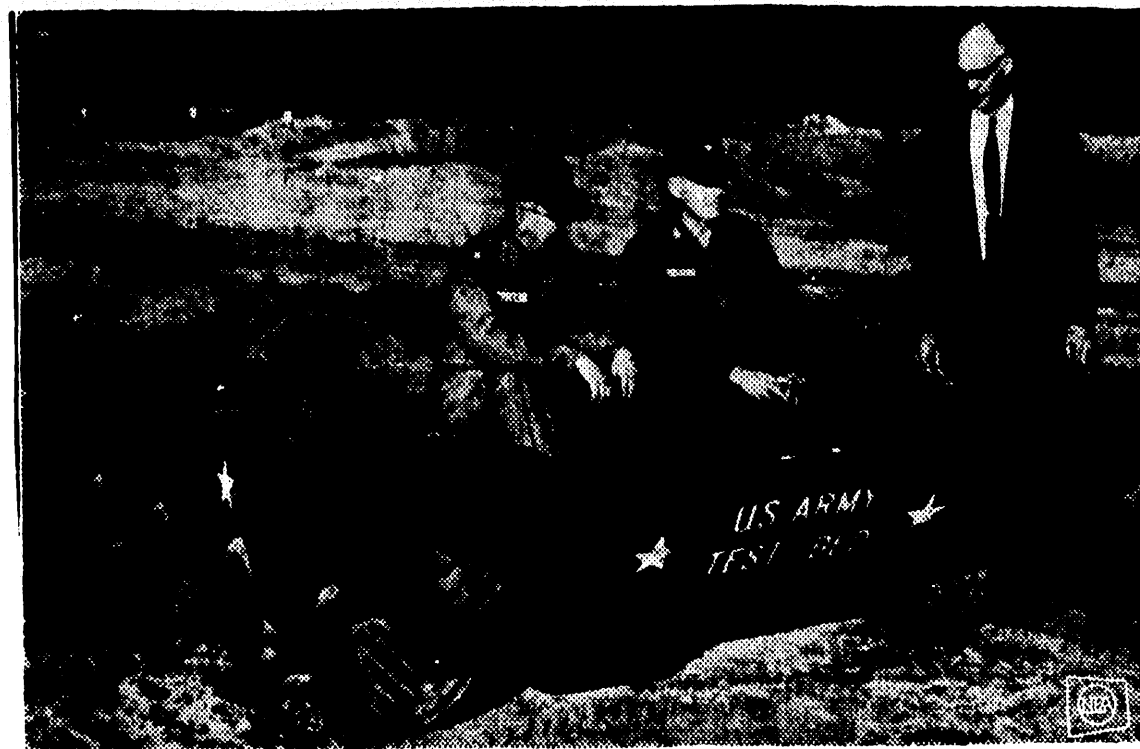

Science Fair At NMU On Saturday

MARQUETTE — The 12th annual Northern Michigan Science Fair will be held at Northern Michigan University Saturday, April 2, with at least 75 projects prepared by young scientists from Upper Peninsula schools.

The fair will be staged in the University Center. The public is invited to view the exhibits beginning at 12 noon. Winners will be announced at 3:30 p. m.

4-H Show

The Style Review and Talent Show will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the Ford River School for the Hyde Kings and Queens 4-H Club. The program will include a clothing review, a knitting girls review, a talent show and Mrs. Katherine Nelson's group will have their knitted items on display. Parents and friends are invited.

VERSATILE VEHICLE—A new military vehicle, Tactical Infantry Load Carrier: Amphibious Remote, TILCAR for short, has proved its battlefield versatility in tests at Fort Benning, Ga. Developed as a low-cost equipment carrier for combat infantrymen, the 12-wheeled vehicle can swim with full load, climb steep slopes and cross ditches. Its speeds vary from the pace of a foot patrol to that of a truck convoy. Weighing a ton, it can be air-dropped or sling-carried by helicopters.

Forecasters See British Voters Backing Wilson

LONDON (AP)—Britons voted for a new House of Commons today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor party a runaway favorite to continue in control of the government with a healthy majority in the lower house of Parliament.

Pollsters and bookmakers rated a Labor landslide a certainty. As the voting booths opened, bookmakers reported a flood of money on Wilson's party. The three leading public opinion polls gave Labor an average lead of 11.8 percentage points—enough to boost the government's majority in Commons from the three seats it had in the last Parliament to more than 100.

The polls close at 3 p. m. EST and by 6 p. m. EST the trend should be clear.

A large turnout was forecast, perhaps 80 per cent of the 36 million voters. But predicted cold weather, with hail and showers, could cut this down. The election campaign has been fought mainly on domestic issues. The main argument has been whether Wilson, 50, a pipe-smoking economist, or Edward Heath, 49, the leader of the Conservative party, is better equipped to run a nation in need of drastic industrial reform.

The silvery pinfish, like those at the Miami, Fla., Seaquarium, is so clever it has been nicknamed the "bait stealer."

U.P. Has Resources But

Tourist Business Skids

Writing of a report on the $50,000 study of Upper Peninsula tourism financed by the Area Redevelopment Administration and Michigan State University will start soon and it will show how much the U. P. has slipped, but also how much it has to offer.

Dr. Uel Blank of MSU, who headed the study, told UPCA that he thinks the Upper Peninsula's recreation business has hit bottom and is on the upswing. But he stressed that the U. P.'s tourist businesses still can't seem to realize fully that they're not competing with each other, but with the other areas which draw their business from the same prime Midwest market to the south from which the U. P. draws its tourists.

And the other areas have been doing a much better job than the Upper Peninsula in hosting people with money to spend for recreation. With more to offer in the way of scenery and history, the Upper Peninsula has failed to develop its attractions so they can be fully enjoyed by visitors and so it has actually had a decline in tourist business in recent years when its competitors were getting rich.

Area Has Resources
"We have more of the woods, history and waters that people want up here than anywhere else," said Dr. Blank, "but we have been losing ground. The sales tax on food in the U. P. in 1954 showed sales of $34 million and it had slipped to $25 million in 1964. Gasoline sales in 1958 were $32 million and in 1964 they were $30 million. The International Bridge at the Sault started with high traffic and slipped; so did the Mackinac Bridge."

"All signs indicated that we're going up at this time, but we're fighting an international situation. The TVA lakes, Great Smokeys National Park, the Gettysburg Battlefield, Niagara have all drawn increased business from our market, but we haven't. Hawaii has increased its visitation 10 times."

Projects Underway
The distinctive areas of the U. P. he said have "a real potential for development" and it is moving in such projects as the Dollarville Dam in Luce County, St. Ignace's Gateway Park project, the Sault's St. Mary's Church Shrine of the Missionaries tower overlooking the locks, and its Tri-Centennial Celebration coming up in 1968 to mark the 300th anniversary of Father Marquette's founding of the mission, third place in the United States where Catholic Masses were celebrated.

The western U. P. ski resorts are flourishing with enormous development, and with more to come and they're thinking now of summer activities to fill their winter housing. Hancock has the Quincy Mine Hoist under development and Menominee will build the Great Lakes Memorial Marina to honor the 15,000 persons who have lost their lives since the Grifin first sailed the Lakes.

"The job of UPCA," said Dr. Blank "is educational. To show that tourism is compatible with your mining and forestry and not out to replace them. They contribute to tourism, for people like to see these unusual industries."

Area 4-H Clubs Hold Annual Style Show

BARK RIVER — Swing into Spring was the theme of the Bark River-Harris School District 4-H Clubs at their annual Style Show and Talent Program Sunday afternoon, March 27. It was held in the elementary school with the Harris Hand-Stitchers in charge of the decorations and program.

Participating in the program were: Debbie Bergstrom, Beth Bartoszek, Christine Nault, Beth Knauf, Sally Johnson, Lynn Bartoszek, Linda Yagodzinski, Olive Beauchamp, Nancy Nordin, Joan Derocher, Darlene Wendrick and Denise Rahoi.

Club stylings and narrators were: Mrs. Glenn Johnson, Mrs. Wayne Teal, Mrs. Carl Ahlin, Mrs. Edward Motto, Mrs. Clifford Olson, Mrs. Tom Bartoszek, Bonnie Kay Teal was the announcer.

Christine Nault and Denise Rahoi of the Bark River Busy Bees will participate in the Delta County Achievement Day talent contest, which will be held at the Escanaba Junior High School, Saturday, April 2, at 1:30 p.m. Queen candidates are Kristine Bruce of the Busy Bees and Ruthann Olson of the Sunnyside Club. The Harris and Perronville Clubs will have their Achievement Day at Stephenson later in April.

Members whose garments will be judged in Escanaba, April 2, are: Susan Olson, Julie Krause, Christine Nault, Bette Lu Krause, Carol Arkens, Donna Viau, Lois Viau, Carmel Olson, Linda Olson, Ruthann Olson and Patsy Viau.

South Africa's Voters Affirm Racist Policy

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's white Nationalists won South Africa's parliamentary elections today and seemed headed for a record victory. This would be an overwhelming endorsement by the country's white voters for the party's apartheid policy of rigid racial segregation.

With returns in for 130 of the 166 House of Assembly seats to be filled, the Nationalists had 92, United party 37 and the Progressive party one.

Unofficial computer analyses, which in previous elections have proved accurate, indicated the Nationalists would win a record 124 seats. The highest previous total won by any party was 111, by the now main opposition United party in 1958.

Helen Suzman, an outspoken critic of apartheid, was the successful Progressive. She won re-election by a majority of 711 votes over her United party opponent in a Johannesburg district. Her majority in 1961 was 564.

Only white persons voted Wednesday in the elections for another all-white Assembly to serve for five years. Persons of mixed blood (called coloreds) had already voted separately for four white persons to represent them.

There are about two million coloreds out of the total non-white population of 14,138,000. The whites number 3,335,000, and about 1.7 million were eligible to vote.

Verwoerd, who has been premier for 7 years, easily won re-election from his Heidelberg constituency in Transvaal Province with a majority of 5,518 against a United party opponent. He was unopposed in the previous election.

Under the parliamentary system, the party with the most seats forms the government and the party leader becomes premier.

The Nationalists plan to create independent black states within South Africa. In these "bantustans" the Africans will have limited self-rule and will be allowed to commute to work in the heavily industrialized white-controlled areas.

Hunger Strike In Second Day

EAST LANSING (AP) — A daughter of Michigan's selective service chief and five companions, all on a hunger strike, picketed today a second day today in protest over the jailing of four young Viet Nam war critics.

Meanwhile, the four youths in jail turned away their trays of food, too.

The picket line, on duty overnight, marched at the home of Michigan State University President John A. Hannah and also included Jane Munn, 22, daughter of MSU Athletic Director Clarence (Biggie) Munn.

The six pickets—three young men and three girls—showed up at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

"We'll stay here until they let the four war critics get out of jail," said Louise Holmes, 20, daughter of Col. Arthur Holmes, the Michigan draft boss.

Miss Munn said she felt sure her father disapproved but that she expected her parents to "overlook it."

"But it's still hard to sleep when your teeth are chattering," said the third picketing coed, Leslie Heimstadt of Birmingham, Mich.

Circuit Court Judge Marvin Salmon handed down jail terms ranging from 10 to 30 days on conviction of the four for trespassing in a demonstration last Oct. 12. The four had passed out leaflets opposing the Viet Nam war at a Marine Corps exhibit on the MSU campus.

In jail since Tuesday have been Albert Halperin, 18, New Rochelle, N.Y.; Howard Harrison, 20, East Lansing; James J. Dukarm, 19, San Antonio, Texas; and Fred W. Janviro III, 22, East Lansing.

Picketing with the girls were John O'Mally Burns, 21, Grosse Pointe, Mich., identified as coordinator of the demonstration, and John Dennis of Aiken, S.C., and Michael Elkins of Southfield, Mich.

Goal Is 6 Million:

Ore Season Begins Today

The Chicago & North Western Railway today opened the ore shipping season at Escanaba, loading out the carrier Charles C. West with 9,500 tons—the first drop in the big bucket that will hold about 6,000,000 tons in 1966.

The West, of the Reiss Steamship Co., entered the harbor without difficulty from ice at 2:30 a. m. today.

Then she anchored waiting for the Coast Guard cutter Mesquite to arrive and break open ice in ships at the North Western's big ore dock. There's no pressure on and the ore movement start this spring has been leisurely.

"There's about 14 inches of ice in the slips alongside the dock and the West would have been unable to get in without help," said L. A. McMillan, the North Western dock agent.

Two On Friday
The cutter was making final passes at the ice about 11 a. m. and then the West moved in to the dock, to be greeted by representatives of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

While the West is not the first boat of the season at Escanaba, her loading by the North Western does represent the start of another season—and the C&NW's 102nd continuous year in loading ore at Escanaba.

About 6 p. m. today the West is scheduled to clear with her

9,500 tons of ore for Detroit. The West is a self-unloader and on the smallish side, compared to some of the bigger vessels in the ore fleet that can carry 20,000 or more tons of ore at a crack.

One of the bigger boats, the Sykes, will be coming here for ore on Friday. The Sykes and the L. E. Block, both Inland Steel vessels, are scheduled to load at Escanaba with ore for smelters at Indiana Harbor. The Sykes is due in about 7 a. m. and the Block at noon on Friday.

Equal Last Year
The first boat of the season this year was a tanker, the Amoco Wisconsin, which docked at the Standard Oil marine terminal on March 26.

This has been an easy spring for boats opening navigation after one of the mildest winters in many years. Ice was about half as thick as usual and there has been patches of open water in Green Bay throughout the winter.

Last year the first ore boat arrived on April 6 and in 1964 the first boat was on April 3.

There has been no official goal set by the North Western for the volume of ore to be handled at Escanaba this year, but Dock Agent McMillan reports the total will be "as much or probably a little bit more" than last year.

The total shipped last year at Escanaba was 6,064,785 tons. This was an "about-average" year.

Special Education Needs Described

Special education for handicapped children in the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District was the subject of Hagley Quarstrom's talk sponsored by the Better Hearing and Speech Society.

Quarstrom, superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, explained how three years of effort, initiated by parents of handicapped children, have brought about present plans for special education programs in the Delta-Schoolcraft District. Two surveys were made to prove the need for special educational help.

Quarstrom detailed the work done by the superintendents in the district and the intermediate board in the last three years, resulting in the 1966 resolution to put special education on the ballot for June 13th. A one mill maximum will be requested of the voters; however, taxes would be levied only for such programs as can be staffed.

Seven Upper Peninsula counties now have special education programs in progress or recently voted in.

"Birth defects, illness, or injury may cause handicaps, including speech disorders, impaired vision, hearing loss, mental retardation, crippling and emotional disturbances," said Quarstrom. "Many of these children do not fit and are not accepted in a regular classroom and need special help with their education."

In the Delta-Schoolcraft District a minimum of 700 children were found to be handicapped and in need of special help and only 60 of these children are now being served under the Escanaba Area School System special education programs. Most of the remaining youngsters are getting no special help. "Under the Michigan state law, every child has the right to an education," said Quarstrom, "and the intermediate district has the right to state aid money covering 75% of the cost of special education."

It was stressed by the speaker that handicapped children become handicapped adults. He further declared that nearly all of these youngsters can become self-supporting or at least be trained to care for themselves if they are provided special help with their education. The alternative, if special education is not provided, will find many supported by welfare or expensive institutional care.

Two individual TV attachments have been purchased by the Better Hearing and Speech Society and presented to the Delta Nursing Home for the use of hard of hearing persons. It was reported by Mrs. Rene Labre.

Boy Killed In Perronville Fire

face down halfway out of his bed, firemen said.

Chief Wes Palmgren of the Bark River Volunteer Fire Department said the fire started upstairs, but cause had not been determined. Stanley Novak said he thought an oil space heater had overheated and exploded.

The home, one of the oldest in Perronville, was a two-story frame dwelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Heitz and their children were living with their parents, the Novaks, while their own home was being built.

Heitz, who is employed by an Escanaba beverage distributor, attempted to enter the house about 10 a. m. to find his son, but was warned away by firemen fighting the fire from atop the front porch. Part of the roof of the home collapsed into upstairs rooms shortly after 9 o'clock.

Save Possessions
Gary was one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Heitz. Wayne, about 5, was in school when fire broke out and Bobby was not injured.

Firemen, who entered the house shortly after they arrived, were able to save some of the family possessions, but the house was severely damaged. Upstairs rooms, where the fire started, were gutted and the downstairs area was damaged extensively by smoke and water.

The body of Gary Heitz was taken to the Degnan-Crawford funeral home.

Jury Decides For Motorist

An Escanaba Municipal Court jury, after deliberating about four minutes Wednesday afternoon, acquitted a motorist of a charge that he was driving on a revoked license.

The motorist, Edward A. Palka, 47, of Bark River Rte. 1, testified at the hearing that he was driving the car and that his operator's license was revoked.

Composing the jury were Archie Wood, Tim Curran, Claud Fisher, John Pettin, Leo Laviolette and John Bartella. Escanaba police issued Palka the traffic court summons for driving on a revoked license and running a red light at Ludington and 11th Sts. on March 11.

Palka paid $5 fine for running the light but asked for a jury trial on the revoked license charge. The acquittal followed.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to Clyde Oakes, Hardwood, failing to stop and identify; Elizabeth N. Faust, Bark River Rte. 1, speeding; and Leveda L. Hathaway, 419 S. 17th St., improper backing.

Youth Sentenced For Contributing To Delinquency

James F. Murray, 20, of Rapid River, was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail by Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone after he pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Murray was arrested by State Police in connection with a camp beer party near Nahma. He was the fifth person arrested as a result of continuing investigation of the case, which involved four teenage girls from Escanaba.

Capt. John Parker commanded the militiamen at the Battle of Lexington.

FINAL PLANS for the 1966 Cancer Crusade in Gladstone were made at the home of Mrs. Bernard Olson, 1124 Montana Ave., co-chairman, Monday afternoon. Shown arranging material for distribution are left, George Ryan, Health Chairman for the Delta County Cancer Crusade, Mrs. Norman Nelsen, local co-chairman, seated at the desk; Mrs. Olson and Jack Beck, General Chairman.

$5 Million For Freeway Safety

DETROIT (AP)—More than $5 million is going to be spent to improve two Michigan highways notorious for traffic deaths and dangers.

The State Highway Department announced improvement plans Wednesday for Interstate 75, particularly in the Monroe area, and for U. S. 24 (Telegraph Road) in Oakland County.

It's a tab of $500,000 for I 75, the Detroit-Toledo expressway, and $4.7 million for U. S. 24.

The U. S. 24 job is booked for late 1968. The I 75 work will start after contracts are let within three months.

On U. S. 24 three so-called high-accident intersections where there were 134 snafus last year are to be improved. They are the Maple, 12 Mile Road and West Long Lake Road intersections.

Improvements will include edge-marking of road shoulders with painted white lines that glow at night, metal guard rails on the median strips and on sharp curves, and a three-foot earth mound in curve medians to reduce glare from oncoming headlights.

Frank Skebansky, Detroit district engineer for the Highway Department, said police are to enforce regulations against night-time truck parking along road shoulders.

According to Jeff Jurmu, sports columnist for the Northern News at Northern Michigan University, the Wildcat basketball team has lost two of its "name" foes for next season . . . Bradley and Marquette University have dropped Northern from their 1966-67 schedules to pick up major college opponents.

Escanaba High School will face a new foe in football next fall, opening its schedule with a game at Antigo, a Wisconsin prep power . . . The Eskymos will play six of their nine games on the road, traveling to Antigo, Menominee, Manistique, Stephenson, Iron Mountain and Holy Name . . . They will host Kingsford, Alpena and Marinette.

Bob Gale, 6 foot 5 inch Trout Creek center who led the Anglers to their 25-1 record this season, heads the Porcupine Mountains all-conference squad selected by coaches of the loop at a recent meeting . . . Don Besonen of Trout Creek, a 6 foot 3 inch junior, also made the honor team . . . Others on the squad are Ted Hoiska, Bill Savola and Ted Coffey of Mass. Larry Newhouse, Len Johnson and Don Abrams of Bergland, Henry Aapala of Marquette and Mickey Miesbauer of Ewen . . . This was Gale's third year on the honor team.

The Big Seven Conference, made up largely of small schools that do not sponsor football, is considering the possibility of switching its baseball program from the spring to the fall . . . The only teams in the conference that have football programs are Powers-Spalding and Pembine . . . The Mid-Peninsula Conference has a fall baseball program at present.

Speaking of baseball, the Wishgan League will hold its annual organization meeting Sunday at 2 p.m. at Sievert's in Marinette County . . . Felch was the Michigan division champion last season.

The last Escanaba area team to capture an Upper Peninsula Bowling Association championship was the Dells Supper Club crew of pin artists in 1963 . . . They blasted a 3067 score to set an all-time U.P. tournament record . . . They also took the U.P. crown in 1959 and 1960, setting the previous tournament record of 3028 in 1959 . . . Ray Wahowiak and Charley Lundmark of Gladstone won the U.P. doubles crown in 1963 with a 1301 count which is the third highest in the recorded history of the tournament . . . Wahowiak was singles and all events champion in 1959 and Lundmark in 1960.

The Marquette Star Oil team that captured Class A honors in the 28th annual Upper Peninsula-Northeastern Wisconsin Amateur basketball tournament at Hermansville had a distinct Escanaba flavor . . . Members of the squad included Mike Mileski, Fred Boddy and Gary Wellman as well as Oscar Nelson . . . Rounding out the club were Bob Pecotte of Menominee, Gene Summers of Northern, Duane Soine and Bruce Forstrom of Marquette.

Radio Station WLST will carry the play by play broadcast of the Detroit Tiger day and early evening games this season, starting with the American League opener April 12 against the New York Yankees . . . The Tigers announced today that a tryout camp and clinic will be held at Sault Ste. Marie July 21, 22 and 23 under the direction of Paul Andry . . . The camp is open to all interested young players in the Upper Peninsula.

Clay's Purse Attached By Tax People

TORONTO (AP) — The Canadian government has attached Cassius Clay's earnings from the live gate and the Canadian closed-circuit television revenue in Tuesday night's heavyweight fight here against George Chuvalo.

Clay retained his share of the world title with an easy 15-round decision over the Canadian heavyweight champion from Toronto.

Harold Ballard, executive vice president of Maple Leaf Gardens which promoted the fight with Toronto's Frank Tunney, confirmed the move and said Wednesday night it was not out of the ordinary.

He said the Canadian government simply wants to hold Clay's purse until the income tax is deducted.

He was not sure how long this would take. He said it will depend on how soon officials can determine Clay's share of the TV revenue.

Ballard said the live gate amounted to about $150,000 after provincial amusement tax was deducted. Clay gets 50 per cent of the live gate, or about $75,000, and 50 per cent of the ancillary revenue.

Revenue from closed-circuit TV in 10 Canadian cities was estimated at $63,000 before expenses. Clay gets 50 per cent of the amount after Main Bout Inc., which controlled ancillary rights, deducts expenses.

Also included in the ancillary revenue is sale of radio broadcast rights to the CBC network, but this amount is not known.

Total revenue from all sources is estimated at about $350,000 with Clay's share amounting to $175,000.

Chuvalo collects 20 per cent of the live gate and 20 per cent of ancillary revenue, and his earnings are placed at $70,000. His share of the live gate is expected to be about $35,000.

There was no evidence that the government does not expect to get its money from Clay.

The money is to remain in trust until the matter is settled.

Expert Claims Braves' Shift Won't 'Hurt'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — If Milwaukee fans can't spend their money at the baseball park, they simply will spend it somewhere else, a management consultant says.

Dr. John Clark Jr. of New York City testified Wednesday night in the trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball that the Braves' transfer to Atlanta would not inflict a great economic loss on Milwaukee.

"The money would be spent elsewhere such as in clothing or cetera," Clark said.

Clark said under cross-examination that he had made no specific study of the economic effect on Milwaukee of money spent by baseball fans.

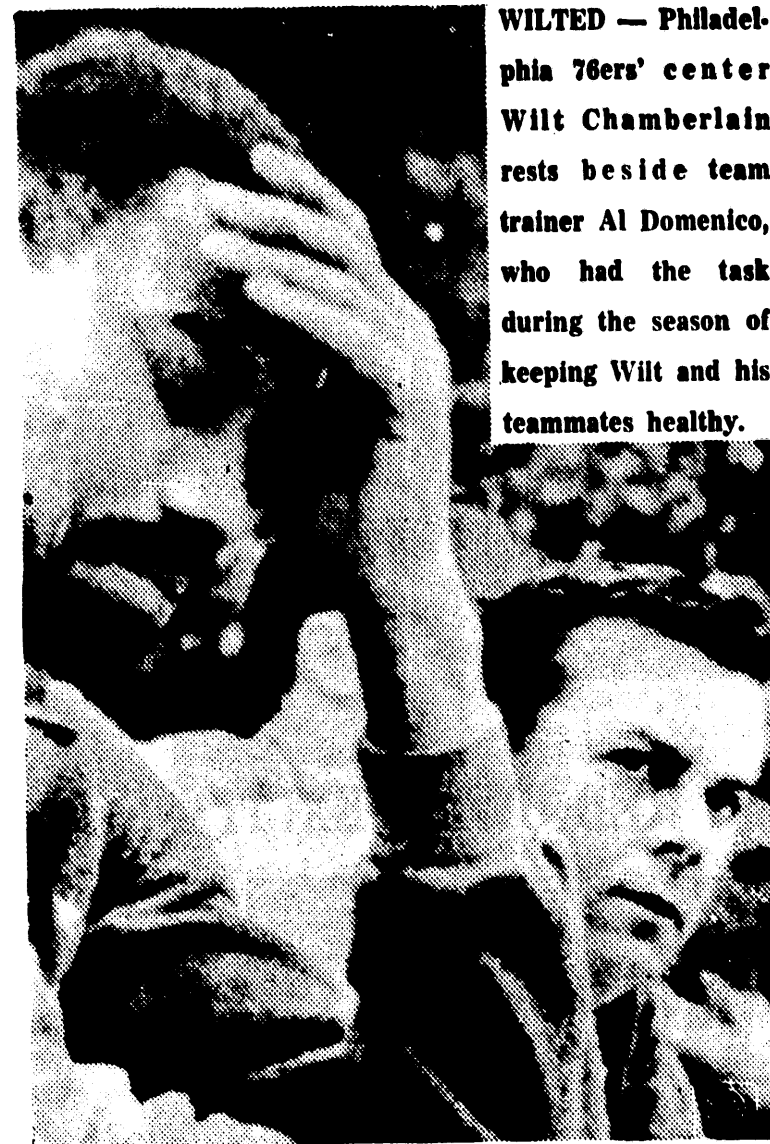

Robert R. Nathan, a Washington, D.C., economist testified earlier in the trial that the Milwaukee business community would lose $18 million annually because of the Braves' departure.

The night testimony Wednesday represented the first such overtime session in the trial as it finished its first month.

Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, hearing the case without a jury, has said he wants to complete the trial by April 12, the date the Braves are scheduled to open in Atlanta. Wisconsin has charged the National League and its members with violating its antitrust laws by approving the controversial shift.

Clark testified that while Milwaukee has a larger population within a 50-mile radius of its ball park than has Atlanta, the Georgia city has a greater potential for television revenue.

Clark said a study of the two baseball markets showed both cities were prosperous, but he forecast the Braves would draw $360,000 to $405,000 more annually in ticket sales in Atlanta than in Milwaukee.

WILTED — Philadelphia 76ers' center Wilt Chamberlain rests beside team trainer Al Domenico, who had the task during the season of keeping Wilt and his teammates healthy.

Iron Rangers Host Playoff In Marquette

MARQUETTE—The greatest hockey attraction ever offered to Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin fans will take place at the Palestra here Saturday and Sunday, April 2-3. The Marquette Iron Rangers will host the United States Hockey League playoffs in the weekend headliner. The four top teams in the USHL will battle for playoff prizes totaling $2,000.

The first game at 2 p. m. Saturday will have the league champion Waterloo Blackhawks playing the fourth place Rochester Mustangs. Saturday night at 8 Marquette, the league's second place finisher, will tangle with the third place St. Paul Steers.

Sunday afternoon at 2 the two Saturday losers will play for third and fourth places. Sunday night at 8 the championship game will be played.

St. Paul is favored to win the playoff in spite of the fact that Waterloo won the league championship. Marquette is given an outside chance because the Rangers will be playing on their home ice. Although Rochester is not given much of a chance, hockey fans know that anything can happen in a single elimination playoff.

Total attendance for the two day, four game affair is expected to reach 10,000. Tickets are still available and can be purchased at the arena at game time.

A unique feature of the USHL is the fact that each

Standout Prep Coach Will Speak Here At Clinic This Weekend

Roy Kramer, one of the most successful high school football coaches in Michigan before joining the college coaching staff at Central Michigan University last year, will be a speaker at the third annual Escanaba Coaches Clinic at the Terrace Friday and Saturday.

Kramer, graduate of Maryville College (Tenn.) with a masters degree from the University of Michigan, coached for nine years at Hudson, Dowagiac, Benton Harbor and East Lansing before taking a post as freshman football coach at Central in 1965.

In five years at East Lansing, Kramer's teams were 32-5, winning the state Class A championship in 1964. He was named Detroit News coach of the year in 1964 and Lansing Area coach of the year in 1962 and 1964.

His overall coaching records, including undefeated seasons at Hudson and Dowagiac, reads 58 victories against 14 defeats. He also served as track and field coach during his high school career.

Kramer's Central Michigan freshman team last fall fashioned a 3-1 record. Jerry Cvergros and Bob Dufour, co-directors of the two-day coaching clinic, have announced an advance entry of over 50 coaches from high schools and colleges in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Other speakers at the clinic will be Rollie Dotsch and Mike Mileski of Northern Michigan University, head football coach Bill Kelly of Central and trainer Jim Cook of the Cramer Chemical Co., Gardner, Kansas.

Florida State Nips Spartans

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Mike Martin rapped a single to cap a four-run fifth inning rally as Florida State nipped Michigan State 5-4 in the second game of a college baseball doubleheader Wednesday.

The Spartans beat Rutgers 7-6 in the opener and now stand 5-7-1 for the spring season. The final game of the tour pits the Spartans against Rutgers today.

Bob Speer, who had three hits in the second game, slammed a two-run double in the ninth inning of the opener to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Osteen Pitches Two-Hit Shutout But Is Demoted

By The Associated Press
Just when Claude Osteen was getting comfortable as the Los Angeles Dodgers' No. 1 pitcher, he lost the job.

Now you'd think a pitcher who had just hurled a two-hit shutout and lowered his spring earned run average to 2.17 wouldn't be in line for a demotion. But moments after Osteen had blanked the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 Wednesday, he learned he was no longer No. 1.

There was this little matter of two guys named Koufax and Drysdale signing their contracts at just about the time that Osteen was retiring the last Red Wednesday.

Osteen, who has allowed just six earned runs in 27 2-3 spring training innings, d.d. a Koufax-like job on Cincinnati. He retired the first 18 batters he faced before Tommy Harper beat out an infield hit leading off the seventh.

Osteen then allowed a ninth-inning single to Don Pavletich before finishing the Reds off. He walked only one and struck out eight.

Jim Lefebvre's two-run homer paced the Dodgers attack. Philadelphia's Jim Bunning also hurled a complete game Wednesday and two other pitchers, San Francisco's Gaylord Perry and Cleveland's Sam McDowell came close.

Bunning limited Kansas City to four hits including Larry Stahl's ninth-inning homer as the Phillies downed the Athletics 4-1. Bill White and Rich Allen homered for Philadelphia. Perry worked eight innings and pounded one of three San Francisco homers as the Giants walloped California 15-5. Perry's stint was the longest by any Giant pitcher this spring. McCovey and Jim Hart also homered and McCovey, Willie Mays and Tom Haller had three hits each.

McDowell was in a 5-5 tie against the Chicago Cubs and had two out in the ninth when pinch hitter Joey Amalfitano delivered a double that brought the lead run home. Lee Stange replaced McDowell and Ron Santo tagged him for a two-run homer that wrapped up the Cubs' 8-5 victory over the Indians.

Elsewhere Wednesday, the New York Mets downed Washington 5-2. Minnesota nipped Houston 3-2. Detroit ripped Atlanta 11-7. The Chicago White Sox downed Baltimore 4-2 and St. Louis defeated Boston 5-3.

Koufax, Drysdale End Long Holdout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An hour after the long holdout siege had ended, pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale had one more request of the general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"Where can we find a catcher to practice with?" inquired Drysdale.

"One with a left-handed catcher's glove," added southpaw Sandy, joking.

The scene was the office of General Manager E.J. (Buzze) Bavasi, and today the two hurlers were back in baseball, limbering up their famed arms for the approaching National League season.

Neither principal would even hint at the final terms except for Bavasi's disclosure that it was "more than $210,000" for one year.

Guess At Salaries

This $210,000 was the sum revealed in the club's supposed final offer Tuesday — $110,500 to Sandy and $97,500 to Drysdale.

The speculation is that 26-game winner Koufax, the 1963 and 1965 Cy Young Award winner, got $120,000 and his right-handed teammate, who had 23 victories, $105,000, which maintains the $15,000 difference quoted all along by the Dodgers themselves.

Whatever the figure, it is certain the Dodgers have the first and only $100,000-a-year pitchers in the history of baseball.

The Dodgers duo ended their 32-day holdout all smiles. Pressed for financial details, Sandy spoke for both when he said:

"Let's put it this way. Don and I are both happy."

Join In Phoenix

The pair plan to join the Dodgers this weekend in Phoenix, and Drysdale, who has been working out the past week or more, said:

"I'd like to get in a couple of innings this weekend."

Koufax said he felt sure they could pitch during the first week of the season, which opens here April 12 against the Houston Astros.

Koufax said he weighs 197, seven or eight pounds under the playing weight; his legs feel good and his valuable arm "feels even better than it did this time a year ago."

That includes the left elbow, noted for a swelling eccentricity which threatened his career last spring.

The Dodgers are due in Phoenix tonight and have an off day Friday. They play the San Francisco Giants at Mesa and Phoenix Saturday and Sunday.

The windup of the holdout was dramatic but perhaps not as stunning as was the players' bombshell original request which they unloaded Feb. 22—$1 million, or $500,000 apiece, on a three-year contract.

Tuesday Night Call

Bavasi revealed that Tuesday night, after the so-called final offer had been rejected, he talked by telephone with the players' attorney, J. William Hayes.

Hayes, Sandy's personal attorney in legal matters, advised Buzze the two really wanted to play baseball.

So a conference was arranged between Bavasi and Drysdale, who in turn was to relay details of any new arrangement to Koufax.

Drysdale also conferred with old friend, television star Chuck Connors, a former ballplayer, who advised him to stay with the game a few more years.

Bavasi also obtained the ready release of Don and Sandy from a contract to appear in a movie at Paramount Studios, and after that things quickly fell into place.

"We're glad it's over," said Sandy. "It hasn't been fun for anybody."

"We're happy to be back in the fold, and happy that it worked out like it did," concluded Drysdale.

Michigan Win Streak Ended

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Michigan's touring baseball team stretched its winning streak to eight games in a row in the opener of an unusual tripleheader Wednesday.

But after the Wolverines dumped Wyoming 9-2, Arizona State took two games from Michigan by scores of 10-6 and 3-2.

Reggie Jackson's tape-measure three-run homer and four RBIs powered the Sun Devils in the first game. In the nightcap, ASU pitcher Ted Robinson had Michigan blanked until two were out in the ninth inning. Chan Simonds' triple produced two runs, but he was thrown out while trying to score.

Gary Thompson of Bartlesville was named head coach of the squad with Horace Walker of the Dearborn team as his assistant. Thompson's team lost to Dearborn in the AAU finals.

The others named are: Ray Carey, Kendall Rhine, Harold Sergeant and Bobby Rascoe, all of the Bartlesville, Okla., Oilers; Jim King of Akron, Ohio, and Chuck Gardner, who was Big Eight conference scoring champion at Colorado this season.

Cazzie Makes National Team

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Michigan's Cazzie Russell and four of his fellow players on the national AAU champion Dearborn, Mich., basketball team were named Wednesday to an 11-member U.S. cage squad.

The team will represent this country in the world amateur basketball championships at Santiago, Chile, April 16-30. Russ Lyons of Boulder, chairman of the national AAU basketball committee, announced the selections.

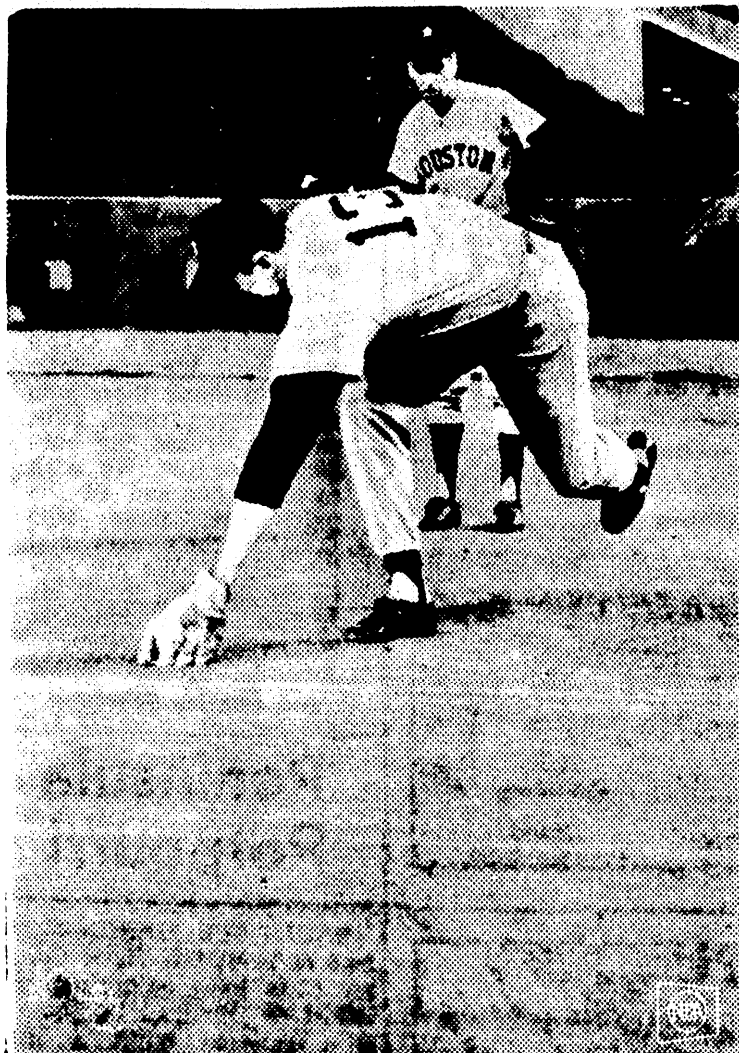

Other Dearborn players are John Clawson and Oliver Darden from Michigan, Lance Olsen from Michigan State, and Ollie Johnson from San Francisco University.

The others named are: Ray Carey, Kendall Rhine, Harold Sergeant and Bobby Rascoe, all of the Bartlesville, Okla., Oilers; Jim King of Akron, Ohio, and Chuck Gardner, who was Big Eight conference scoring champion at Colorado this season.

Whatever the figure, it is certain the Dodgers have the first and only $100,000-a-year pitchers in the history of baseball.

The Dodgers duo ended their 32-day holdout all smiles. Pressed for financial details, Sandy spoke for both when he said:

Yankees Facing Many Problems; Mantle Biggest

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Manager Johnny Keane, witness to the New York Yankees first second-division finish in 40 years, describes the 1965 season as "disappointing but not disillusioning."

Then he goes on to cite the numerous injuries that decimated the club and adds "it is inconceivable that what happened to the Yankees in 1965 could be repeated in '66."

It's a good thing he's talking about the injuries.

For despite the optimism running through the Yankees' training camp there are enough unsettled problems to keep the perennial champions bogged down for another year.

For example:

Can Mickey Mantle, still bringing himself along slowly after a shoulder operation, make a solid contribution to the team?

Can catcher Elston Howard, now 36, regain the form he lost after undergoing an elbow operation?

Can Joe Pepitone, the cantankerous first baseman, change his attitude and begin to live up to expectations?

Can Jim Bouton, who won only four games last year, find the form that made him an 18-game winner in 1964?

Bouton could be the key to the strength of the pitching staff. Whitey Ford is a known commodity and Mel Stottlemyre, a 20-game winner last year, seems headed for a long career. Bob Friend, acquired from Pittsburgh, will help.

But either Bouton or Al Downing, 12-14, last season, must prove they can win consistently or the Yankees will have to find another pitcher from among the youngsters battling to make the club.

The catching will be in the hands of Howard if he can handle the job the way he used to. If not, Jake Gibbs, the highest-priced bonus baby in Yankee history, will get the chance to prove he's finally ready.

If and when Mantle gets into the lineup, he'll play left field, with improving Tom Yresh in center and Roger Maris in right field. The infield shows Pepitone at first, Bobby Richardson at second, Ruben Amaro at shortstop and Cleto Boyer at third.

However, this may be the year some of the touted Yankee minor leaguers may have to step in and plug the holes as they appear.

"We're a contending ball club," says Keane, "and anyone that can contend can win."

He won't go any further in his prediction. He did last year, and he's probably still wondering where his pennant went.

Braves Blast Tiger Pitchers, But Lose

LAKE LAND, Fla. (AP)—Some days it doesn't pay for a pitcher to have his good pitches working for him.

That was Mickey Lolich's problem Wednesday as the Atlanta Braves worked him over for eight hits and four runs in four innings.

The Braves, behind the hitting of Jim Northrup and Mickey Stanley, rallied to win, 11-7, after scoring five unearned runs in the sixth inning.

"Lolich had more stuff on the ball today than he has had all spring," said coach Bob Swift. Swift was subbing for manager Charlie Dressen who decided to take a couple extra days off to recover from an attack of bronchitis.

"When I was catching, I remember games where our pitcher really had the ball jumping, and yet everytime the batter swung he hit a line drive," Swift said. "There's nothing wrong with Lolich."

The Braves collected 18 hits off three Detroit hurlers, the most given up in the spring camp in two years.

Billy Cowan and Joe Torre touched Lolich for solo homers in the first inning, and Norm Cash hit one for the Tigers in the fifth.

Billy Graham, second of the three Detroit pitchers, worked his way out of a tight jam in the sixth, then reaped the rewards of the Tigers big inning.

The Braves loaded the bases off Graham in the sixth but the right-hander struck out Frank Bolling and Denis Menke and got Woody Woodward on an infield fly.

"Getting out of the inning had to help Graham's confidence," Swift said. "That's what we need, someone who can come in and mow 'em down in the clutch. Stanley doubled home the first run in Detroit's big inning, and Dick Tracewski's sacrifice fly scored another before Northrup delivered a bases-loaded triple to cap the inning.

Loser Billy O'Dell gave the Tigers a break when he threw the ball away after fielding Ray Oyler's bunt.

The Tigers went on the road for the first time in six days today, playing the Pittsburgh Pirates at Fort Myers.

Schayes Named Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Dolph Schayes, whose Philadelphia 76ers ended the nine-year reign of the Boston Celtics as Eastern Division champions, was named the Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association today.

Schayes, who played 16 years in the NBA and scored 19,249 points after starring at New York University, beat out Red Auerbach, the Boston coach, in the voting of a 27-man committee of selected writers covering NBA games.

Schayes, whose three year coaching record shows 129 games won against 111 lost, gave full credit to his players, especially to "Wilt Chamberlain for his leadership. His great desire to win penetrated through the ranks."

Bob Shaw of the San Francisco Giants committed five balks in one game in 1963 while a member of the Milwaukee Braves.

SAULT STE. MARIE—Members of Sault Ste. Marie Country Club have authorized the Board of Directors to proceed with plans to build a new $150,000 clubhouse area. Included would be a swimming pool and tennis courts for other family recreation. Membership will be increased from 135 to 300.

MARQUETTE—St. Mary's Hospital put its $1,100,000 modernization and expansion project on display Wednesday with a public open house. The Most Rev. Bishop Thomas L. Noa, D. D., bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, presided at a blessing ceremony.

DE TOUR—Temperatures and weather in the next three weeks can be critical in determining how well the deer herd survives the winter, according to Conservation officer Elton Carlson. Deer look good and if weather doesn't turn cold they will probably come through the winter in better-than-average condition, he said.

MARQUETTE—A city-owned tourist-trailer park in Marquette estimated to cost $111,897 for 37 trailer pads and needed service buildings and utility connections is being planned here. A grant of $67,158 to help finance the project has been requested from the federal government.

ST. IGNACE—The proposed Straits State Historic Park ranks eighth on a list of 78 recreational facilities under consideration by the State Conservation Dept., according to John LaHale, chairman of the city planning commission.
